Hi! My name is Robin and I've been cross stitching for a loooong time. I originally learned in elementary school and picked it back up after college and have been going strong since! I am a wife and a mom to two wonderful boys. When I'm not stitching, I work overnights as an x-ray technologist. My design represents not only my job but also my love of bones, skeletons, and spooky season. my stitchy friend, Meghan (@sunflower_creations_and_repair) gave me the idea for the glow in the dark thread and I think it is the perfect touch for an x-ray themed stitch!
